Geo. W. ALFORD, one of the Democratic County Committee for Lincoln county, having violated his faith with the Democratic party of the county by joining in calls upon Republicans and Independents to run against the regular Democratic nominees for certain county offices, has been requested in a public manner to tender his resignation as a member of the Committee. We hope he will comply with the request, and that the District and State papers will hand him around.

The canvass for district offices opened last Monday in Stanford, and the speeches like the weather, were pretty hot, and some of them were still further like the weather, intensely dry. Col. Chrisman, for Commonwealth's Attorney, opened the engagement in a speech of an hour or more, and was followed by his Republican opponent, Mr. Geo. Denny, Jr. in a speech of nearly the same length, who gave a slight exhibition of vanity and bravado, did quite well for one of his kind, and bids fair to cut out the strength of his party, and no doubt to make a good thing of it.

Upon the documentary substratum of the Democratic party, preached its everlasting truths. He didn't intend to have any shuffling in ranks, or dodging of this or that issue. His opponent was a Republican, and the nominee of a Republican conclave, and the game of "Independency" was of a "extreme" "too thin." He admonished the Democratic party to cling like grim death to the Independent Judiciary department of our government, whatever befell them in the other departments.

The Louisiana and Arkansas troubles were brought upon the sorely afflicted people of those States by drunken incompetent carpet-bag Judges. He found a corrupt Judiciary in the Radical party, but pointed with pride to the bench of our own State, which has been occupied by Democrats since the adoption of the present organic law, and no corruption, no impeachments stand on record. Upon the subject of the civil rights bill he manifested no unbecoming littleness, but lord, how he made the Anglo-Saxon blood of his auditors boil as he unfolded to them the sweet-scented odors of that infernal parchment, section by section. He knew almost assuredly that it would become a law, and he held the Radical party, every man of them who would not avow his determination to abandon the party in the event of its passage, responsible for its consequences. Whether the bill passes the house of Representatives and becomes a law of the land or not, it is a policy of the Republican party, and if it is defeated, Democrats must do it.

The excellent Col. Chrisman was interlarded with several very questionable but highly amusing anecdotes, which served to clinch his arguments on account of their appropriateness, as well as to amuse the crowd amazingly. If he don't beat Mr. Denny it will not be because he failed to discharge his whole duty upon the stump. The first point made by Mr. Denny in his reply to Mr. Chrisman, was a reflection upon his own astuteness. His friend had spoken of an "Independent Judiciary." That was just the kind of a man he was.

Let the people elect an independent candidate, and thus preserve an independent Judiciary! (no applause, but some "very funny smiling"). He attacked Col. Chrisman's record with some degree of sharpness, and pledged himself, unconditionally not to contest the election, if defeated. He thought politics had nothing to do with his race, but did not shrink from confessing his Republican proclivities. He disliked to call upon the animosities of the past; Col. Chrisman had appealed to the passions of the people. The people were heartily tired of being scared into voting for politicians. In the next breath he took a text from a campaign sheet of 1872 and preached to the Southern people, notwithstanding which, Col. Chrisman had endorsed all the devilment that the Radical party had done to the South, upon the advice of Greeley and his kind. He was opposed to Sumner's supplementary Civil Rights bill; wanted some legislation, however, that would compel railroads to furnish a separate coach for negroes, and forbidding white people to enter said coaches. He, like Peter, denied his master, and said he was not nominated by the Republican party; that the people made a choice of him, as between his opponents, Messrs. Tuttle and Adams. Our young friend has a great deal to learn, but in the dear scholastic institution of experience, with Chrisman as tutor, he will advance in knowledge quite rapidly.

Major Owsley, Democratic candidate for Judge, made a brief speech, full of good sense, and would have spoken at length, but for the fact that his Republican opponent, Mr. John W. Tuttle, would not speak.

AFTER the speaking by the candidates for judicial honors, last Monday, the crowd raised an enthusiastic call for Judge Saufley, Democratic nominee for County Judge, who made his appearance and, before commencing his speech, sent out for his Radical opponent and especial friend, Mr. Lytle, as he wished to have a little discussion with him upon certain points connected with their canvass. Mr. L. was in the hands of his trainers, however, and failed to come to time until Saufley had well nigh finished an eloquent and sensible speech upon a popular topic. He entered, at last, rubbed up and smoothed down, and Saufley pounced upon him like a duck on a June bug: After a little sparring L. went to grass and avoid a home thrust. The second and third rounds were but a repetition of the first. Fourth round S. hit him over the head with Sumner's legacy, the civil rights bill, and, failing to ward the blow, he swallowed his radicalism and threw up a white flag with a miserably dirty border around it, which made his friends throw up the sponge, and declare Saufley entitled to the stakes. Mr. L. expressed himself willing to be questioned regarding his fitness for the office of judge, but when Saufley proposed to examine him as to his qualifications, for one hour, pledging himself to yield him the track if he answered one single question correctly, L. begged to be excused. He would leave the people to judge of his qualifications, but would not submit to be catechized publicly by a competent examiner. We hope they will meet again, as it is important that some Democrats who are strongly attached to Mr. Lytle on account of his personal cleverness, should be made to see his utter incompetency for the important position, and also see through the gauzy subtleties now being practiced by Mr. Lytle and his cohorts to defeat the Democratic nominees of the district first and the county next. Mr. Lytle is, personally, a clever man, and is one of our most useful and sterling citizens. Personally, the writer of this admires him, and has the highest regard for his cleverness, but he is a bitter, uncompromising partisan, hating those who take up the cudgel for Democracy with a fervency exceeded only by his love for the extreme Radical measures ever adopted by the present Administration. He is not only incompetent by reason of his prejudices to sit in judgment upon a poor "rebel" offender, but is wholly incompetent to perform even the everyday routine of office labor appertaining to the judgeship. There is not a magistrate or peace-officer in the county that could not hit the judge's position better than the man the wily Radical of this county have selected to defeat the Democratic nominee for this office. Mr. Saufley is a man of superior natural talent; of unquestionable integrity and ability; an impartial judge; prompt in the discharge of his official duties without fear or favor, and is an able and willing exponent of the everlasting truths of the Democratic creed. His decisions, during a term of four years as County Judge, attest his knowledge of law and justice, while his well-ordered and systematically kept records stand as a monument to his energy and industry. To defeat such a man with even the cleverest Democrat in the county would be a shame, but to elect an incompetent Radical Radical, would be to commit the unpardonable sin spoken of in Holy writ, (not a line of which does this model citizen believe). But there is no politics in the office! Neither is there politics in a postoffice, or a mail agency, or the honorable position of carrying the mails from a local depot to a local postoffice. Yet there is not a Democrat engaged in either line of business in this section; and only a short time ago a clever gentleman was removed from a postoffice in the county for "splitting his ticket." Do they think Democrats are a blind set of fools?

Mr. J. W. TUTTLE, of Wayne county, Independent Republican candidate for District Judge, whose announcement appears in another column of this paper, requests us to say that he is certainly a candidate, all rumors to the contrary notwithstanding. We learn that a few of the leaders of his party in this county attempted last Monday to induce him to withdraw from the race, or submit to the action of the party, but Mr. Tuttle declined both propositions, and will make the race independent of party action. Col. Morrow yielded the track to him some weeks ago, so we presume the entries are all in and the swiftest nag will win the stakes.

Wm. T. HUGHES, who was shot last week by his Uncle Granville Smith, is not yet dead, but in a very precarious condition.

Messrs. Owsley and Chrisman will speak at Shelby City this (Friday) afternoon, and at Hustonville, to-morrow.

Democrats, Take Notice!
At a called meeting of the Democratic County Committee for Lincoln county, at Stanford on June 8th, 1874, the purpose and objects of the meeting having been explained by the chairman of the committee to take into consideration the case of G. W. ALFORD, a member of said Democratic County Committee and chairman pro tem of the meeting that called the Democratic primary election which was held on the 4th of April, 1874, to select candidates for the county offices. Now

WHEREAS, The Committee has been reliably and credibly informed that said ALFORD refuses to support the nominees of the Democratic party, selected by said primary election, and

WHEREAS, Said ALFORD's name appears upon a petition petitioning parties to run in opposition to the regular nominees selected at the primary election at the call of which he presided as chairman pro tem of said Democratic Committee, and

WHEREAS, Said reports of his opposition to the ticket are largely and industriously circulated to the prejudice of the Democratic candidates selected at said election, be it, therefore,

Resolved, That in order to promote the general harmony and good feeling in the party, we respectfully request the said G. W. ALFORD to tender his resignation to the State Central Committee at Frankfort, Kentucky.

BASE BALL.
The Stanford Nine Again Victorious.
There is no sport so fascinating to the American youth as the game of base ball, and none that combines more perfectly the requisites for healthful exercise, pleasure and innocent amusement. We do not claim to be an advocate of base ball, yet we must say that we regard it as the least harmful of all the popular games of the day. It has for ages been a characteristic of the English and American youth to love to engage in the manly and athletic sports of the field, and to delight in contests where strength, agility and hardiness are essential to success. The principal opposition to the game is made by those who are constitutionally too lazy to engage in any active recreation, or are too much absorbed in the practical affairs of life to spend an hour in any exhilarating exercise. We claim to belong to the former class.

A challenge from the Resolute of Danville, to the Montgomery club, of Stanford, resulted in a match game on the grounds of Dr. Montgomery, Saturday, the 30th inst. The Resolute were defeated by a score of 55 to 25. The second contest took place on the College campus, at Danville, on Saturday last, between the Montgomery nine and a picked nine from the Resolute and College clubs, when the Stanford nine were again the victors. Below we give a summary of the game:

THE DISTRICT CANVASS.
Appointments of Messrs. Owsley and Chrisman.
Hons. M. H. Owsley and J. S. Chrisman, candidates for the Judgeship and Commonwealth's Attorneyship in the 8th Congressional District, have made the following appointments, and invite their opponents to meet them. Speaking to commence at 2 o'clock P. M., each day.

Little South Fork Precinct, Casey county, June 19th; Alstroth's store, June 20th; Liberty, June 22.
A full list of appointments will be published next week.
As the incoming passenger train from New Orleans to Louisville was nearing Belmont Station, about twenty-five miles from Louisville, it ran into a freight train which was going in upon a switch to permit the passenger train to pass. A fireman named Wallace was almost instantly killed in attempting to jump from the engine. Both trains were considerably injured. The passenger train was No. 5, and the freight train No. 9. Two other accidents occurred on the same day on the Short Line railroad somewhat similar to this.

THE BOARD OF CURATORS OF KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY met in Lexington on the 9th. J. B. Bowman offered his resignation as Treasurer. The meeting was addressed by R. M. Bishop. Eight members of the Board were absent. The Bowman party will attempt to impeach the anti-Bowman portion of the Board.

OREGON elected a straight Democratic ticket by an average majority of 1,000.
